

A SYSTEM OF NEWSPAPER BLACKMAIL

Several complaints have reached this office that two newspapers of Honolulu, evening and morning, are trying to build up a list of subscribers by compulsion. Papers are sent to a given address for weeks or months notwithstanding orders by mail, telephone and word of mouth to stop them. Finally the collector comes and demands payment. He is always pertinacious and sometimes impudent; and in dealing with the timid he now and then gets his unearned money. People who are courageous enough to order him off the place do not hear from him again.

There is no law compelling a man to take any newspaper. There is none to compel him to pay for a paper he has not subscribed for and the delivery of which he has objected to. But there is a law to prevent and punish extortion, which may be properly appealed to against these newspaper sharpers who, failing to attract subscribers, seek to blackmail them.

CIRCULAR TO TEACHERS.

Board of Education Quotes Law for Pedagogues.

The Board of Education is sending circulars to the teachers of the Territory, of which the following is the substance: "Considerable confusion has been caused, and this Department has been subjected to no little annoyance by the practice of some teachers admitting pupils to their schools who have not been properly released from the schools they formerly attended.

"The provisions of the law on this subject are very plain and explicit. They are found on pages 44 and 45 of the Penal Laws, published in 1907, and also in the school law, Sections 33, 42 and 43, with which all teachers should be familiar. It is expected, therefore, that the following will be carefully read and faithfully followed by all concerned."

The circular then quotes the sections of the law relating to truancy, the requirements that a complete register of pupils shall be kept by each teacher, and to admitting pupils to a school without a certificate of release from the last school attended. The penal section of the law is as follows:

"The teacher of any such school who shall violate any of the provisions of this or of the foregoing section shall, upon conviction thereof, before any District Magistrate, be subject to a fine not exceeding ten dollars for each offense."

Doric Arrives.

The O. & O. S. S. Doric arrived at Honolulu last night at about 10:30 o'clock. She was lying outside for quite a while, and on shore it was thought that she would not come in this morning. As the night was a beautiful moonlight one, however, she came to the Pacific Mall dock. She had a quiet and uneventful trip down, leaving San Francisco on September 20. She brings four days' later mail. It was reported by her that when she reached the strike in San Francisco had not yet come to an end.
